BAB I PENDAHULUAN

A. Rasionalitas

Pelayanan kesehatan merupakan salah satu industri yang besar. Kemajuan teknologi, pengembangan ilmu pengetahuan dan kebebasan berekspresi mempengaruhi pasien dan masyarakat lebih kritis terhadap pelayanan yang diinginkan, yaitu kualitas pelayanan kesehatan yang prima. Pelayanan kesehatan prima kepada masyarakat semakin perlu ditingkatkan dengan menerapkan teknologi informasi dan komunikasi sebab di era globalisasi pelayanan teknologi informasi menjadi suatu kebutuhan. Meski menerapkan teknologi modern, akan tetapi di Indonesia memiliki keanekaragaman budaya yang kaya akan nilai dan filosofi, Nilai dan filosofi budaya local sangat berpengaruh dalam pelaksanaan pelayanan kesehatan, sehingga penerapan teknologi informasi dan komunikasi perlu untuk diselaraskan dengan budaya yang ada. Bila hal ini diabaikan oleh petugas kesehatan akan beresiko terjadinya cultural shock.

Konsep teknologi informasi, komunikasi dan budaya bukanlah suatu topik yang baru di dunia kesehatan. Pelayanan kesehatan berbasis budaya dan teknologi merupakan suatu kegiatan yang ditujukan guna meningkatkan mutu pelayanan kesehatan dalam rangka meningkatkan patient safety. Yang mana hal ini merupakan prinsip dasar dalam pelayanan kesehatan. Semua petugas kesehatan wajib untuk memastikan keamanan dalam pelayanan kesehatan baik untuk pasien, keluarga pasien, petugas kesehatan lainnya dan lingkungan sekitar. Tetapi seiring dengan bertambahnya tantangan yang secara umumnya dihadapi petugas kesehatan seperti peningkatan beban kerja, lingkungan yang kurang kondusif, tekanan waktu dan tuntutan kualitas pelayanan dengan biaya yang rasional memberikan pengaruh negatif terhadap implementasi konsep tersebut.

Culturally Sensitive Intervention in the Delivery of Health Care Professionals to Encounter Globalization Era

In Collaboration With:

Background

Nowadays, issues on health have become more complex. Health issues have a dominant effect on the health status of a country. Various factors affecting the health status are environment, behavior, and heredity as well as health services. As an integrated part affecting health state, culture is also considered as a major influence to the health issues. Comprehensive health care services are needed to overcome the situation and it requires multi disciplinary approach and collaboration among different health professions to improve the quality of health care services.

The society is in need of excellent health care services that can only be delivered by best qualified health care professionals. Thus, higher health educational institutions are demanded to fulfill this by aiming to maintain the quality of their graduates to the highest level. Within this term, higher health educational institutions are also expected to prepare their graduates in delivering health services that has cultural sensitivity (ICN, 2008). As an act of professionalism and commitment in continuous quality improvement, higher health educational institutions held specific activities namely research publication through conference and seminar both in local and international scale.
